

Georgina Hirsch
Year of Call: 2009

Georgina joined the Bar in 2009 after a successful 15 year career as a solicitor. Her experience is reflected in performance well above her call. Her first Supreme Court appearance was in 2013 and she has since appeared in various appeal forums including the Court of Appeal where she also has two cases pending.

She has been praised for her clear advice, persuasive advocacy, and excellent client service.

She is Junior Counsel to the Attorney General (B Panel) and is ranked in Chambers & Partners and The Legal 500 for Employment and IT & Telecoms (Regulatory).

Georgina has particularly wide experience in employment law work; both on an individual and collective basis. Recent notable cases include the trade union detriment appeal in Dunkley v Kostal; the Addison Lee employment status appeals, and acting for Couatts Bank – successfully defending claims of equal pay and associated Equality Act claims, as reported in The Times.

Georgina's telecoms work ranges from competition and regulatory work in the CAT and Court of Appeal to wayleaves actions.

Georgina also has experience in general civil and commercial cases, as well as a growing tax practice.

During her time as a solicitor, Georgina spent 6 years in a Legal Aid firm, specialising in employment, personal Injury and Judicial Review gaining advocacy experience in ETs, CICA appeals, and interlocutory hearings. She then joined the Engineering Employer's Federation, gaining experience of respondent work within the field of employment, before becoming Head of Employment at Taylor Willcocks solicitors.

She obtained an MBA before spending her last 7 years as a solicitor working in-house as Director of Legal Services at what became the UK's largest union, with 2.2 million members covering engineering, transport, banking, health professionals, printers, construction workers, and many others.

Recommendations

Frequently called upon by both claimants and respondents to handle a broad range of employment disputes. Employment

Georgina has represented Claimants and Respondents in a range of final hearings and procedural hearings both in court, tribunal and EAT. She has advised and represented parties as sole counsel on the full range of employment disputes. She has particular experience in:

- individual discrimination claims for all protected characteristics, and covering direct, indirect, failure to make reasonable adjustments, harassment and victimisation;
- trade union detriment;
- unfair and constructive dismissal;
- breach of contract;
- redundancy and consultation rights and obligations, and
- enforcement of restrictive covenants in the High Court

She has a special interest in the cross over between commercial and competition law, and their impact in the employment sphere.

She writes the age discrimination section of Bloomsbury Discrimination Law, and regularly speaks and write on industrial and individual employment law issues.

Telecommunications & IT

Georgina Hirsch is recognised as one of the rising stars in the Devereux team. Having previously worked in industry as a solicitor, she has readily slotted in as a secondee to assist telecos. She has appeared before the Competition Appeal Tribunal in the major Ethernet case (ex ante cost orientation obligations and Ofcom's dispute resolution powers) to be hearing in the Court of Appeal in 2017, and has advised on the BCMR 2016, the Electronic Communications Code and other regulatory issues

Commercial Litigation and Disputes

Georgina has experience in Competition Law, most recently in the Ethernet litigation at the Competition Appeal Tribunal, and has enjoyed leveraging the financial understanding from her MBA in the course of dealing with the accounting and economics aspects of this work.

She has advised in a number of misrepresentation claims.

Regulatory & Professional Discipline

Georgina has a specialist knowledge of fines and penalties in the fields of Regulatory Law and Insurance.

She also has experience in Telecoms Regulation.

She is also experienced in the regulatory aspects of employment law and professional regulation.

Off-payroll working (IR35)

Georgina Hirsch has advised on IR35 in the pure tax context, but also brings a particular experience of contractual arguments on employment status arising from her allied employment law practice, for example the Addison Lee drivers case which is pending hearing in the Court of Appeal on a contractual basis which may change the direction of judicial travel on allegedly sham self-employment cases.

Mediation

Georgina is a trained mediator.
